

Workflow for Assessment of Academic Programs

Program Assessment Report Process

The facilitators' formal role in the process occurs after the Dean's designee review of reports; however, the facilitators are available for consultation at any point in the process.

Each Department Head and Dean's designee authors a summary report that addresses the following questions:

- What did you learn from the assessment reports about how effective your department's/college's programs are in achieving their outcomes?
- What steps should be taken to enhance the effectiveness of outcomes assessment to improve programs in your department/college?
- What are some examples of productive new actions taken by faculty to improve their programs?
- What are some general issues that emerged in your reading of the reports that the Dean/Provost should be aware of?
